

Lurking

You are watching what is happening from the sidelines and not getting involved. You are just looking at what other users do.

This round you draw only 1 card.

Content loop

The Octopus ignores your personalization. It trapped you in a content loop. It repeatedly recommends posts that you don't want.

One of the drawn cards pass to the person on the right side.

Virality

Your post is very popular and is expanding very quickly on the net.

This round you can react on one chosen connection with any number of cards. If you choose another connection than the one you selected together your turn has the same rules as if it was a normal round.

Multitasking

You pay attention to more than two activities at the same time and you cannot focus on either one of them.

Before playing, make exercise for eye relaxation.

Censorship

The Octopus found your shared posts inappropriate and deleted them from Tentaclegram.

Remove comment cards from one unclosed connection and put them on the discard pile.

Infostress

The octopus is recommending so much content, you are experiencing information overload. You cannot quickly process the amount of information which causes you to be unwell and stressed.

Before playing make simple exercise for right posture.

Deepfake

Your shared reaction is an edited video that is fake. When you realized this you quickly deleted it.

Remove 1 comment card from unclosed connections and put it on the discard pile.

Disinformation

You realized you encountered false information. You have been able to detect them and report them.

Choose 1 of the drawn cards, discard it on a pile and draw a new one.

Information need

You cannot realize what kind of content you want. You are searching for information you do not need.

Before playing make exercise for hand relaxation.

Influencer

Well known internet celebrity shared an interesting post. Other users follow them too and the celebrity has a good reputation.

This round you can lay out more than one card if at least one of them is comment or like card.

Trending

There are currently popular themes on Tentaclegram that are getting attention.

Your comment stories in this round need to involve one of themes: cephalopods, universe.

Meme

The Octopus has recommended you funny viral pictures. You can quickly share this memes with others.

This round you can lay out more than one card if at least one of them is a comment card.

Hashtagging

You found a good amount of interesting content because of the tags you are following.

This round you draw 3 cards instead of 2.

Digital well-being

Your technology use is healthy. You can work well with it.

You can keep drawn cards in your hand this round. You don't have to put them on the discard pile.

Digital footprint

You are safe from any trouble and threats, because you did not share any of your sensitive personal information.

This round is without special effects.

